

CYS Nasi Lemak Day

Nasi lemak is a traditional Singapore and Malaysian dish that is typically eaten for breakfast or brunch, but can also be enjoyed for lunch or dinner. It is made with fragrant rice cooked in coconut milk and pandan leaves, and served with a variety of accompaniments such as spicy sambal sauce, crispy fried anchovies, roasted peanuts, sliced cucumber, and a hard-boiled egg.

Nasi lemak is one of the most beloved food items in CYS community and when nasi lemak was served for lunch just a week ago, our CYS people went crazy over it. And as always, a long spread of yummy food stuff was prepared and cooked by our Pantry Service Team, which were placed over fresh banana leaves on our food counter and our people happily helped themselves to their favourite toppings over their rice.

“I can eat this stuff everyday” said one CYS guy employee, “I skipped breakfast just for this lunch” said another lady employee. Needless to say, everyone gave their thumbs up for the delicious nasi lemak lunch and to our Pantry Service Team, a big thank you!

CYS CMO Lynn Wong (Center) with friends

Wide spread of Nasi Lemak toppings

CYS Nasi Lemak Day

Take as much as you want!

Spoiled by choices

"I want this one and this one and this one..."

Soto Ayam Soup!

Yeah, so good....!!!

Disclaimer: The stories and news articles is from the public domain and is solely intended to be shared amongst our business partners to highlight current economic financial and compliance trends. While reasonable efforts have been taken to ensure the contents of this site is both current and accurate, errors may occur. This newsletter provides brief descriptions of news stories and when you select a story, you will be linked to the site on which that story appears. CYS does not claim ownership rights to the full news stories, which are held by the sites to which this newsletter links. The information contained in this site is general in nature and does not constitute legal, accounting, financial or any other advice. Facts and opinions expressed are those of the respective authors. You are receiving this email because you signed up to receive updates from CYS.