

CYS Special FeatureWelcoming the Year of Rabbit

CYS Global Remit welcomes the Year of Rabbit and as our tradition goes, the entire CYS office is decorated with cute origami rabbits, fishes, lanterns, fire crackers, and fans that are handmade out of CYS "hongbao" by our employees as symbols of good luck and prosperity. Other popular decorations such as couplets or "chunlian", gold ornaments, mandarin orange or Kumquat tree and pussy willows, which all symbolize resilience and hope, are decked in our main and side lobbies.

The colour red, which is believed to ward off evil spirits and bring good luck, is considered lucky in Chinese culture and believed to symbolize prosperity, happiness, and good fortune. Decorating the office in red is CYS way to celebrate Chinese New Year with joy and happiness, wishing for a good new year and expressing the hope for good luck and prosperity.

CYS wishes everyone a happy Chinese New Year, may your Year of Rabbit be filled with abundance of smiles and laughter, good health, and great fortune. Gong Xi Fa Cai!

Windjammer™

Every business contends with shifting market conditions, resource management challenges, and identifying which activities offer the highest payoff, but these each have varied levels of impact. So, what makes the difference?

The answer lies in the ability to capitalize on profit from all opportunities, not just those that are readily accessible. This is what sets world-class companies apart. In Eagles Flight's engaging experiential learning program, Windjammer™, participants will be tasked to capitalize on every opportunity, where their negotiation, relationship, and team-building skills will be tested and honed.

Participants will leave with an understanding of how using their team effectively, and operating with a practical yet flexible plan, will increase both profit and efficiency.
